

THE CHRONICLE.

W. J. BROADDUS, Editor.

32.00 PER ANNUM IN ADVANCE.

THE unfortunate Gen. Caffel seems to be about to be made the scapegoat for all the big rascals in France.

JUSTICE HAMMOND is accused in the Memphis Appeal with charging up the drinks and bootshines to the gov't, under the head of expenses paid.

SENSATIONAL newspapers are filled with nonsense about an imaginary quarrel between Secretary and Attorney-General Garland. Doubtless all of this is news to these distinguished gentlemen who are warm personal friends.

GLADSTONE JR., is said to be selling the chips cut by his illustrious sire at Haward in feeling the trees in his forests with his own hands. Although Gladstone Jr., may be a thrifty young twig, he can scarcely be said to be a "chip of the old block."

GEORGIA has the best Legislature of any State in the Union. They met, kept sober, drew their salary punctually, and adjourned without doing any mischief or passing a single law. A remarkable instance of self-denial that shows up very well in the political history of the country.

THE Fort Worth Gazette irreverently says that every time a man makes a speech in Memphis he drops dead. This is a new species of epidemic not heretofore prevalent in this free country, but it would be rather a good thing if a wholesome dread of it more generally prevailed, especially in Congress.

In the event of the appointment of Secretary Lamar to the vacancy on the Supreme bench caused by the death of Judge Wood, the McMinnville New Era suggests the name of Hon. J. D. C. Atkins as his successor to the Interior Department. This appointment would give general satisfaction to the South.

There is another outbreak of horse thieves in De Kalb County, Missouri, and fifteen horses have been stolen. A posse is in pursuit of the thieves.—Exchange.

Yes, and if they catch them, about fifteen horse-thieves will turn up missing from this mundane sphere, having been treated to a moonlight minuet in mid air with a hempen cravat around their neck.

EDITOR EUGENE FIELD states that Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Grady met at Raccoon Range. This is a mistake. They met in Raccoon Hollow, and the Atlanta Constitution hastens to correct it.—Memphis Appeal.

And now having definitely settled the important question where these gentlemen met, will the Constitution please state what in the thunder that has got to do with it anyhow?

If you want bargains in dress goods and trimmings call at E. Glick's.

A stock trader happened into Ben's to see his Saturday and admired a calf belonging to a sharp-witted farmer. "What is the breed of your calf?" said the would-be buyer to the farmer. "Well," said the latter "all I know about it is that its father gored a justice of peace to death, tossed a look agent into the fence corner, and ood a lightning rod man on his ear; and his mother chased a female eturer two miles; and if that ain't reed enough to ask four dollars, you edn't take him.—E.

E. Glick's bargain counters are complete, call and see them, they will save you money.

History of Clarksville.

This number of the CHRONICLE contains an index of the contents of Titus' Picturesque History of Clarksville, which is now in the hands of the binder at this office. This work contains about five hundred and fifty pages devoted to facts concerning tobacco and its many interests; to the mercantile and manufacturing industries, and to innumerable biographical sketches of the citizens of Clarksville; and in fact the book reviews all the institutions, educational, denominational of the city together with statistics regarding them. The appendix covering nearly one hundred pages reviews many incidents of the late war in which citizens of Clarksville were interested, and it contains the original musters of the various commands made up in this vicinity. The book will be delivered to subscribers in about ten days. Persons desiring it should call at the CHRONICLE office and subscribe for it.

Pulaski Pythians.

PULASKI, October, 25.—Col. W. P. Rankin, of Nashville, aide-de-camp on the staff of Maj.-Gen. J. R. Carnahan, instituted Dixie division of the uniform rank Knights of Pythias here last night. There were thirty charter members of the division. A number of members of Nashville Division, No. 4 were present and assisted in the work. After the institution an elegant lunch was served at 2 o'clock this morning in the Young Men's Christian Association rooms adjoining the Castle Hall. The new division is composed of the very best material, embracing some of the leading citizens of Pulaski, and starts off with fine prospects. Gen. Laps D. McCord is the commander.

Another Willapus Wallapus.

Maj. Gen. Joseph Mulhatten is again abroad or some of his brigadiers. A report has been specially dispatched from Nashville to the Appeal (and that paper walks right into the trap,) stating that a hideous animal, (of the Willapus Wallapus species) is roaming around Fort Negley and scaring the quiet denizens of Bilbo Avenue out of their wits. A company of gentlemen armed themselves and went in pursuit of the varmint. They heard a rustling noise in the bushes and fired at it but saw nothing, as the object suddenly disappeared. It is not strange that the Nashville papers are profoundly silent on this exciting subject. They should be informed immediately by telegraph of the presence of the monster in their city.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's soothing syrup for children teething is the prescription of one of the best female physicians and nurses in the United States and has been used for forty years with never failing success by millions of mothers for their children. During the process of teething its value is incalculable. It relieves the child from pain, cures dysentery and diarrhea gripping in the bowels and wind-colic. By giving health to the child it rests the mother. Price 25c a bottle. Dec 25, 1y.

Cook's Mammoth Jewelry and Variety Store.

We were politely shown, the other day, through this magnificent establishment. It was quite a treat to look through it. In the richness and almost endless variety of fancy goods there displayed, in the exquisite taste exhibited, not only in the selection, but in the arrangement of details of everything in the house, it almost reminds one of a fairy palace. Besides a full assortment of watches, clocks and jewelry, of every description and quality, a complete line of almost everything needed in house-keeping, his assortment also comprises a great variety of elegant and beautiful silver ware, including silver glove and shoe fasteners, fancy pieces and fancy spoons, silver goods, butter-dishes, fruit-bowls, tea-sets, waiters, etc., etc. Call and examine them.

A CRUEL MURDER.

ARREST OF SUPPOSED MURDERER. TREATS OF LYNCHING.

A Widow Woman Butchered in Cold Blood in Open Day Light in Ballard County, Ky.

Mr. J. M. Burney, who is the brother of the sheriff of Ballard Co., who has just returned from that county informs us that about two miles north of Hinkleville, a widow woman by the name of Mrs. Moore was struck on the head with a hickory club, her skull broken and her throat cut, it was supposed with a butcher knife, which was found lying by the side of the corpse on Saturday week. The murder occurred in broad open day light at her own house. A trunk belonging to her was broken open and $480.00 taken from it. Detective Officer James Guery, of Paducah, on last Sunday morning, arrested Ivan Shelby, a white man, supposed to be about thirty years old on suspicion of the murder. Shelby was respectfully connected and his arrest created the most intense excitement. Reports reaching the town that a mob was organizing to lynch Shelby, Mr. J. K. Burney, Sheriff, stationed a strong guard at the jail the court-house at Wickliffe, and the office West Bugg the attorney employed to defend Shelby. During the night two men rode through Wickliffe, and eluded the Sheriff refusing to answer when hailed, and it was said that a mob of fifty men was in the outskirts of the town. They were probably deterred from making any attack by the precautions taken by the Sheriff. A reward of $1000 had been offered for the murderer, one-half by the relatives of the deceased lady, and the other half by the governor of the state. Mrs. Moore was highly respected by her neighbors, and threats have been made of lynching the murderer, and if Shelby proves the guilty party, as it is generally supposed he will, his life will not be worth a nickel, if the mob should ever lay their hands on him.

A Melancholy Waif.

The body of a white girl about nineteen years of age was recently found in the Mississippi river at Cottonwood Point, opposite Dyer county. The girl's head was crushed in and her under jaw was broken and hanging down, clearly indicating that she had been murdered, but by whom there is no clue.

HON. JAS. B. GARNETT Common-wealth's Attorney for the Hopkinsville District, was assaulted in open court at Madisonville the other day, by Hon. Kennell Bradley and his two sons. Bradley brandished a heavily loaded cane, and his two sons knifed, but Garnett was game, and defied his assailants. Judge Grace secured order through the interference of the sheriff.

A CONVENTION of the Christian church met at Indianapolis, Ind., on the 21st inst. Rev. C. L. Lois, of Lexington, Ky., presided.

It has become fashionable in Louisville to fight with swords. Make believe.

SILKEN BANDS.

FOWLER-BARBEE.

On last Sabbath morning, the attendants of the Cumberland Presbyterian Sunday school were thrown into a state of amazement and surprise when Mr. Will Fowler and Miss Ida Barbee marched up the altar and were made man and wife by Bro. D. A. Brigham almost before you could say "Jack Robertson." So suddenly and unexpectedly was the thing done, and so completely were everybody taken by surprise, that even the bride's sister, who happened to be present, had no knowledge of what was about to take place when the couple advanced to the altar, but only supposed that they were in the act of joining the church, when, the first thing she knew, the minister pronounced them man and wife. The CHRONICLE wishes them joy.

It is useless to attempt the cure of any disorder, if the blood is allowed to remain impure. Neuralgia and rheumatism are traceable to a disordered condition of the blood, and in numberless cases have been cured by taking a few bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

A New Way to Pay an Old Debt.

Two darkies in Hopkinsville settled an old debt in a singular way. Grundy Dulin owed Tom Vaughan $2.00 which he had neglected to pay and Tom announced his intention to thrash it out of Grundy, which he proceeded to do late Saturday afternoon on the bank of Little river. He pomelled Grundy until he thought the debt was satisfied. Grundy made no complaints, and no arrests were made. The receipt for the debt was written on Grundy's face.
